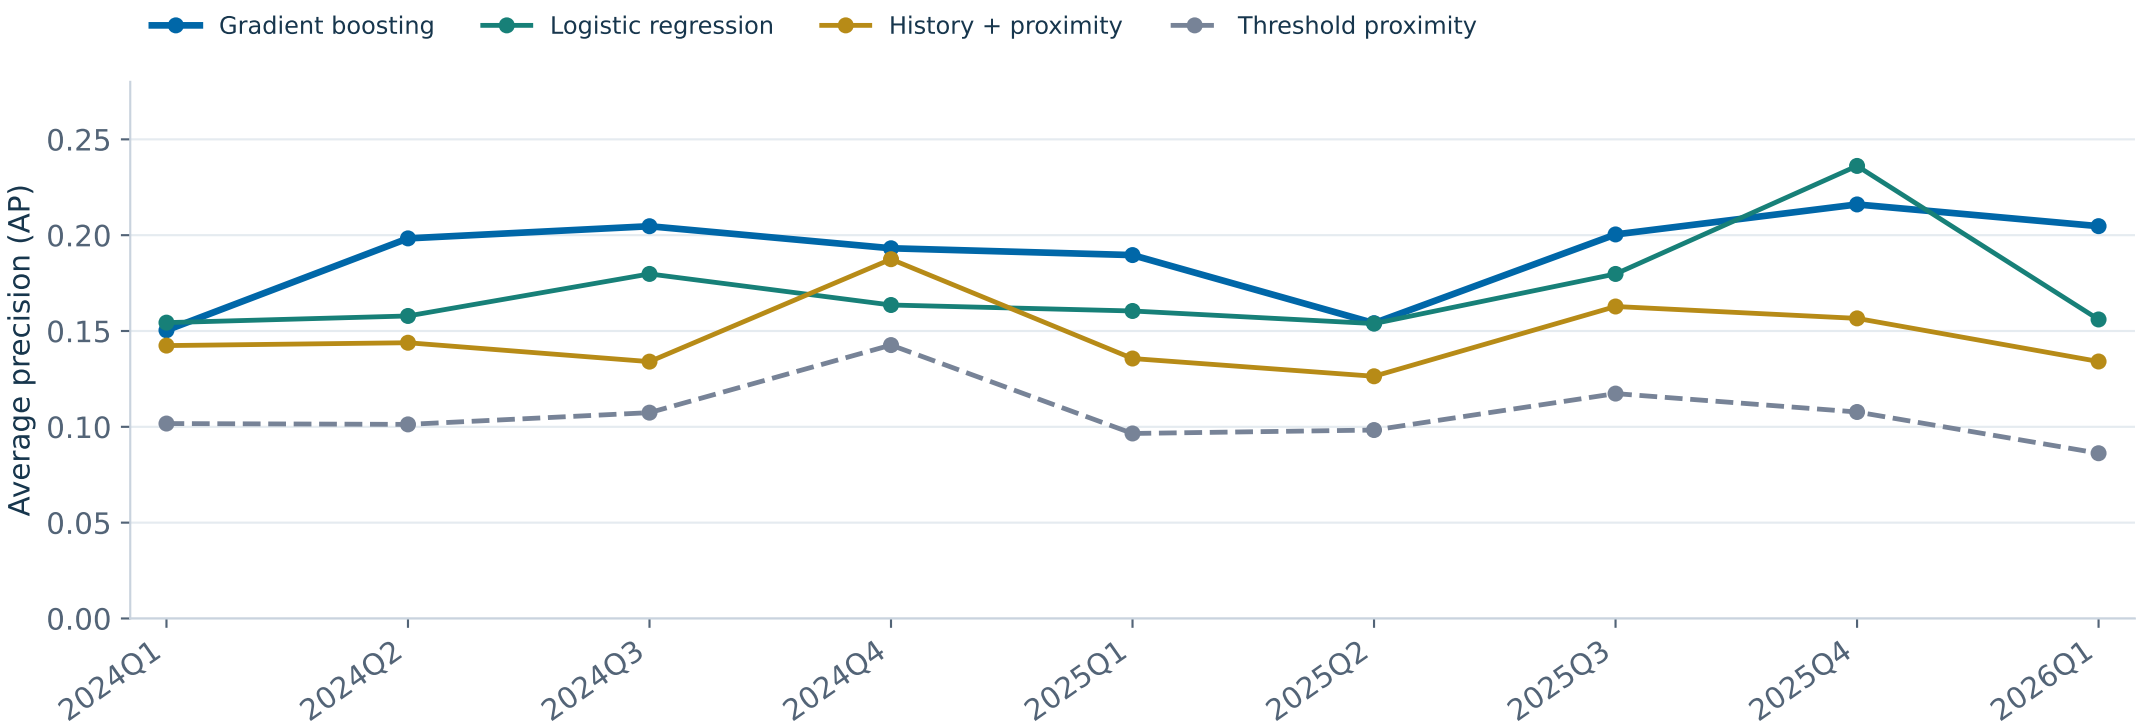
The comparison holds across several test quarters

All eligible candidates · each point predicts the following quarter



Gradient boosting led proximity and the history rule in 9/9 quarters, and logistic regression in 7/9.

These quarters were already examined and share historical data. These are descriptive comparisons, not independent significance tests.